

[FREE] 100 Things to Do in San Diego Before You Die (100 Things to Do Before You Die)

100 Things to Do in San Diego Before You Die (100 Things to Do Before You Die)

Maria Desiderata Montana

*audiobook / ebooks / Download PDF / ePub / DOC

Download

Read Online

#579279 in Books 2016-02-15Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 8.40 x .50 x 5.40l, .0 #File Name: 1681060221160 pages | File size: 60.Mb

Maria Desiderata Montana : 100 Things to Do in San Diego Before You Die (100 Things to Do Before You Die) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised 100 Things to Do in San Diego Before You Die (100 Things to Do Before You Die):

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Perfect gift for new San Diegan!By norcamillsGave this as a Christmas gift for my son who just moved to college in San Diego. He loved it! He spent the rest of the evening leafing through the book and discovering new places to explore. It is great because there are lots of suggestions for inexpensive and free activities plus all day or just a couple hours of activities. Lots of range and versatility.

Sprawling over forty-five hundred square miles, San Diego is the second most populous county in California, and fifth largest in the United States. Boasting seventy miles of coastline and one of the most moderate climates in the world, it's no wonder more than three million residents have settled into this corner of the nation. Whether you like to surf the ocean waves, cruise the coastal highways, hike through arid canyons, snowboard in the mountains, or enjoy a cool desert evening, everything is within a day's drive. First discovered by Spanish explorers in 1542, the region waited over three hundred years to become an official state. Today, it's home to a large military presence, including major bases for the US Navy, US Marine Corps, and US Coast Guard. It's also a magnet for cutting-edge technology and science, including some of the most renowned educational institutions in California. The temperate climate is also a major contributor to the top-tier agriculture and tourism industries. So whether you're a Southern California native or just dreaming you are, 100 Things to Do in San Diego Before You Die is packed with obvious and not-so-obvious opportunities to discover the best that San Diego has to offer.

From the Inside Flap

Sprawling over forty-five hundred square miles, San Diego is the second most populous county in California, and fifth largest in the United States. Boasting seventy miles of coastline and one of the most moderate climates in the world, it's no wonder more than three million residents have settled into this corner of the nation. Whether you like to surf the ocean waves, cruise the coastal highways, hike through arid canyons, snowboard in the mountains, or enjoy a cool desert evening, everything is within a day's drive. First discovered by Spanish explorers in 1542, the region waited over three hundred years to become an official state. Today, it's home to a large military presence, including major bases for the US Navy, US Marine Corps, and US Coast Guard. It's also a magnet for cutting-edge technology and science, including some of the most renowned educational institutions in California. The temperate climate is also a major contributor to the top-tier agriculture and tourism industries. So whether you're a Southern California native or just dreaming you are, 100 Things to Do in San Diego Before You Die is packed with obvious and not-so-obvious opportunities to discover the best that San Diego has to offer.

About the Author

Maria Desiderata Montana is the publisher of the award-winning food blog San Diego Food Finds (sandiegofoodfinds.com). She is also a nationally published and award-winning author, food and wine journalist, and photographer who learned how to cook and appreciate European cuisine from her parents who were born and raised in Calabria, Italy. Maria is the author of Food Lovers' Guide to San Diego (Globe Pequot Press), San Diego Chef's Table: Extraordinary Recipes From America's Finest City (Lyons Press), San Diego Italian Food: A Culinary History of Little Italy and Beyond (History Press), Market Restaurant + Bar Cookbook: Seasonally Inspired Cuisine from Southern California (Globe Pequot Press), 100 Things To Do In San Diego Before You Die (Reedy Press), San Diego Food Finds Best Local Eats: 2017 (Maria Desiderata Montana), and The Inn at Rancho Santa Fe Cookbook. She is extensively published in several publications, where she has written a wide variety of food and entertainment stories as well as her own monthly recipe column. Maria guest appears on local radio and TV to share her knowledge of food and cooking and regularly assists celebrity and high-profile chefs with cookbook projects.