I love Sam Cook's writings and I have most of his books and have given some away so I need to keep reordering!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Camp SightsBy Patricia M. MarschallI purchased this book for my husband who loves camping. My husband and children have camped for many years. I don't but I'm glad they enjoy it.

My husband says this writer speaks from the heart of all people who love being outdoors. 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Da Bomb By Mary G Coons This is the best camping cook book I ever read "terrific" says me "spectacular" says my family

Camp Sights welcomes to the intimate beauty of camps -- quiet you camps for fathers and daughters, familiar camps on a favorite lake with good friends, hunting camps with their rich histories and traditions, serene camps under the starry sky of a summer night, peaceful camps warmed by supper cooking on the stove. You'll experience the challenges and adventures of life in the North Woods -- a chance encounter with Arctic wolves on Canada's Ellesmere Island, a night on the Gods River on a canoe trip to Hudson Bay, a whiteout storm in the barren lands of the Northwest Territories. But you'll also learn of the everyday pleasures of the outdoors -- stories of steelhead fishing, deer and duck hunting, and unforgettable characters like canoe builder Joe Seliga, legendary trout fisherman Benny Larson, and Ely's "Jackpine" Bob Cary. Throughout the book, Sam Cook offers insights into the subtleties of the natural world that all too often go unnoticed, inviting you to see your world anew.
