Of course the park has excellent maps, however National Geographic meets and exceeds thoseBy CWWe just moved to the area for work in the National Park Service. Of course the park has excellent maps, however National Geographic meets and exceeds those! The map has clear images of trails and trailheads, including campsites and other points of interest. The map also includes Curecanti National Recreation Area, the neighboring park. This map is waterproof and has so far stood up to the cold and snowy Gunnison winter. I can't wait for the snow to thaw and to finally be able to explore this area in the summer. I'll update this review in the summer after the trails thaw and I can check them out!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Better to buy the district maps than the whole park map - this was not that helpful due to the scale being too big...By S. OsburnThis map is a bit too "big picture" to be usable for hiking. I would definately recommend getting the more detailed maps for the various districts over this map. I really didn't use this map for our trip - I used the Needles District map for our hikes in that area, and would assume that the other districts are as well mapped...0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Canyonlands National ParkBy J. SpringerWe went to Utah and visited several National Parks. These maps were great. We did several 15 mile hikes and 40 mile bike rides, without these maps we would have gotten lost. They are very detailed and help you stay on course. Canyonlands was our favorite - it has really nice amenities for camping. It is 40 miles off the beaten path but well worth the visit.
