By Linda from NM We have made many cruise vacations all over the world and wish we had had this book to read when we first started our cruise experiences. But, even after the different trips we have made, this book was excellent to read as we begin planning our next cruise. It is well written, the pictures are wonderful, and the information is valuable to everyone - whether it is your first cruise or your 10+ cruise. A very enjoyable and helpful read. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. A Really Helpful Cruise Book By Customer I am a somewhat experienced cruiser, and thought I knew a lot...but these authors are true experts, I'd say, in everything you really need to know. It really does make a difference to have an honest take on which ship, when to buy, when to go, how to pack. But tips and secrets you only get from 819 days at sea (they said they did!) are priceless. Practical things like having your luggage picked up at your front door and be on the ship when you get there and the essentials of insurance are well-expressed in this book. The 250 color photos make you want to go somewhere again, or someplace different, with all this new info and insight. This was my holiday gift to family and friends who always say they want to cruise. When I grow up I want to be these women; in the meantime, this is my plan-my-next-cruise bible. It's like having a GOOD travel agent by your side all along the way. Actually, I have a great travel agent, but I think she would learn stuff from this book. Also, it's fun to read without that show-off "look at all the places we've been" sound...it's about you, not them. Great index, which is always helpful. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. A great book that goes the extra mile! By CMI was extremely amazed at the level of detail that was included in this book! I was so impressed, that I ended up giving many as gifts for my friends who have always been reluctant to travel by cruise ship. The book was able to answer many questions that one may not think of asking. Such as how to prepare a countdown timeline with tips on how to interview pet sitters, purchasing travel insurance, packing lists, and of course passports. My favorite section was "how to choose your home at sea." This section was invaluable! The authors clearly had the experienced and novice traveler in mind so that both types of travelers would be able to prepare and get the most out of their cruise vacation. I highly recommend this book. It's a must read and a must take along on your next sailing!

About the Author Carolyn enjoys research, writing, and helping others to see and understand their life experiences in different ways. Her efforts have been recognized through teaching, research, and human service awards. Throughout her career as professor of Educational Leadership and Organizational Learning she taught graduate seminars with a human behavior focus. The skills she honed over the years help her to better observe, understand, appreciate, and connect with people of different cultures. As a result, she is better able to assist travelers to expand their worldly viewpoints. Carolyn has published numerous articles and book chapters and has given presentations throughout the U.S. on a variety of topics. She received a B.A. from Drake University, an M.A. from the University of Denver, and a Ph.D. from Washington University (St. Louis). She retired as Professor Emerita from the University of New Mexico. She hasn't traveled as much as Mary Jane; but she is making up for that in retirement, and at this point has visited 53 countries, most while cruising. Mary Jane is a world traveler in every sense of the word! She has traveled to 107 countries, many more than once; and most of her travels have been on either ocean or river cruise ships. Her travel experiences are varied, having cruised with several popular lines including Azamara, Carnival, Celebrity, Costa, Cunard, Holland America, Norwegian, Princess, Royal Caribbean, Silverseas, Viking, and Windstar. While the shortest cruise was for two days, the longest were world cruises of 104 days in 2011 and 115 days in 2013 as well as an 83-day circumnavigation of Africa in 2014. She has a B.S.B.A. from Creighton University. Prior to her retirement, she was an entrepreneur and owner of several successful businesses. Mary Jane and Carolyn write about their cruising and travel adventures on the blog - <http://worldsailaway.wordpress.com>. In addition to the blog and this book, they have created several multimedia presentations that have been shared with the public through national conferences and other venues in the wider community.
