Cheryl L Kirk, Noriko Senshu : Midnight Sun Sudoku before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Midnight Sun Sudoku:

Nothing is more fun than lazy days in the summer sun doing Sudoku. Add to that fun that you also learn something about the most majestic beast on earth, and you've got the perfect Sudoku book. Midnight Sun Sudoku is for Sudoku and Bear Lovers everywhere. In this whimsical book you'll not only learn lots about the polar bear, the Lord of the Arctic, but you'll also have fun solving the over 200 puzzles found in the book. Each page has interesting polar bear facts and two puzzles on a page. Sammy the Seal is there to give you hints in case you get stuck, but there's no cheating because there are no answers in the book! Each puzzle has only one solution. The puzzles are considered 'Challengingly Easy'. The cover of the book is adorned by award-winning artist Noriko Senshu's artwork. Her playful, colorful and detailed depiction of the polar bear resting in the Arctic's Midnight Sun makes this a great gift book for anyone who is a fan of Alaska, the Arctic or the beautiful Polar Bear. Noriko spent 16 years in Alaska teaching, painting, skiing and creating amazing artwork of the 'beasts of the North'. This book is one in a series of 'Bear Sudoku Books', that include Summer Sudoku and Killer Sudoku.
