Bruce G. Hallenbeck : Monsters of New York: Mysterious Creatures in the Empire State before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Monsters of New York: Mysterious Creatures in the Empire State:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Fabulous bookBy Carol S. MatthewsThis book is really informative and really fun. It's well researched, organized and very well written. Hallenbeck, whose own family was touched by its experiences with the Kinderhook Creature, is an eloquent spokesperson for those whose lives have been touched by the strange and inexplicable. He covers Bigfoot and "Champ" encounters, the true stories of alligators in the sewers of New York City and the return of the Eastern Cougar to the state (something which forestry officials like to doubt...but the physical evidence is overwhelming). Little people, aliens, the whole nine yards. It's a great book. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By monty burnham Love the format of this book! Good info! 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. On Monsters of NY By Customer Good book, learned some things I didn't know about my home state ended up drawing a few. I would have enjoyed learning more about less well known creatures than Champ and Bigfoot.

After reading Fortean researcher Bruce Hallenbeck's book, one instantly realizes that not only do 'monsters' exist in our computerized world, but the Northwoods seem to be teeming with them. From the Adirondacks and the Catskills to the depths of Lake Champlain and the shores of Montauk--from aliens in the skies above to gators in the sewers below--Hallenbeck takes the reader on a journey with accounts of cryptids around every corner. Awareness to this realm offers us an important glimpse into a reality often overlooked by modern mainstream science.--Paul B. Bartholomew, author of Bigfoot Encounters in New York and New England Bizarre beasts of the Empire State featured in this volume include: Champ, the Lake Champlain Monster Adirondack Bigfoot The Kinderhook Creature Sewer Alligators The Montauk Monster Catamounts
