paperback for $13 and change at Monticello. Generally, I like to buy from the historic preservation organization and give them the little bit of profit, but I really wanted a hardcover book and saw on the website that they only are selling the paperback.<sup>2</sup> of 2 people found the following review helpful. This is the perfect guide before a visit and a terrific souvenir afterwards.
By Timothy W. Reinig This is the perfect guide before a visit and a terrific souvenir afterwards, especially as you are not permitted to take photographs in the house (outdoors is O.K.). The photos in the book are superb and the historical background and details provided in the text is first rate. Highly recommended in anticipation of a visit to this national treasure of a house.<sup>0</sup> of 0 people found the following review helpful. visiting Monticello in print
By Linda D. Waldron wonderful book, since I can not visit in person, love the history

For the first time, Monticello has an official guidebook that reflects the unique statesman and inventor Thomas Jefferson, his home, and his world. Showcasing the recent restoration of the home and plantation, it features information about the slaves of Mulberry Row, as well as the state-of-the-art visitor and education center. Each of the guide's 144 pages is designed to showcase the topics in its five chapters: Thomas Jefferson, Before Your Visit, The House, The Plantation, and the Neighborhood. Photographs, art and cutaways, and maps accompany featured stories both iconic and little-known from Monticello's curators.

About the Author
The THOMAS JEFFERSON FOUNDATION was incorporated in 1923 to preserve Monticello as a memorial to Thomas Jefferson and his ideas. As the owner and operator of the estate, the company has been dedicated to its dual mission of preservation and education for more than 90 years. It has painstakingly worked to restore the UNESCO World Heritage Site, seek out original furnishings, reacquire plantation lands, and expand educational programs.
Leslie Greene Bowman is the president of the Thomas Jefferson Foundation. She leads the nonprofit in its efforts to preserve and operate Monticello, the Founding Fathers home and a designated UNESCO World Heritage Site. A former professor at USC and UCLA, Bowman is also the author of American Arts Crafts: Virtue in Design.
Charley Miller is a feature producer at ARD German TV, one of the worlds largest broadcasting companies. A television industry veteran of more than a decade who has filmed in ten different countries, he is also a coauthor of Monticello: The Official Guide to Thomas Jeffersons World. Miller lives in Washington, DC.
Peter Miller is the author of The Smart Swarm: How Understanding Flocks, Schools, and Colonies Can Make Us Better at Communicating, Decision Making, and Getting Things Done. He is a senior editor at National Geographic and has served as a writer and editor at the magazine for more than 25 years.
