Laura Martone : Moon New Orleans (Moon Handbooks) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Moon New Orleans (Moon Handbooks):

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Very Helpful!By Alexis RodriquezVery Helpful Guide. I do wish they had more budget friendly finds, but hey, NOLA isn't that cheap of a town! This is a great guide that gave us a good overview of what we could expect in NOLA.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Moon New OrleansBy Lesa BarnesGood Travel book we've gone to NOLA twice this fall and this book is very helpful. It doesn't have as much info as I needed but it did have things that other books didn't have!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. thanksBy K. MoyesMoon guides are the best. Lots of ideas for visiting the Big Easy and surrounding areas. Highly recommend this travel series.

New Orleans native Laura Martone offers an insider's take on her hometown, from shopping on Magazine Street to listening to old-time jazz in Faubourg Marigny. Martone also includes a handful of fun trip itinerary ideas, including A Romantic Weekend, Mardi Gras, and Haunted New Orleans. With information on taking carriage rides through the French Quarter, visiting the Art District's museums, and bicycling within City Park, Moon New Orleans gives travelers the tools they need to create a more personal and memorable experience.

About the Author A native of New Orleans, Laura Martone has been an avid traveler since childhood. When she was growing up, she and her mother would often take long road trips to fascinating U.S. destinations such as Monticello and the Rocky Mountains. After graduating from Northwestern University with a dual degree in English and radio/TV/film, Laura continued to explore America with her husband, Daniel. Despite adventures in places like Mammoth Cave, Las Vegas, and South Padre Island, New Orleans has always been her favorite destination. As a child, she explored much of the city, from the French Quarter to Lake Pontchartrain. She's dined at countless seafood restaurants, attended numerous jazz concerts and Mardi Gras parades, and relished every major attraction, from Jackson Square to Audubon Zoo. Following Hurricane Katrina, she and Daniel started a film festival there, in the hopes of luring people back to the Big Easy. Today, with a part-time residence in the French Quarter, they continue to embrace the sights, sounds, and smells of her beloved hometown. When not in New Orleans, Laura divides her time between northern Michigan, the Florida Keys, and Los Angeles, where she and Daniel operate the Beverly Hills Shorts Festival. She's contributed articles to National Geographic Traveler, MotorHome, Route 66 Magazine, RV Journal, and The Ecotourism Observer. She's also written and edited several other guidebooks, including Moon Michigan, Moon Florida Keys, Moon Baja RV Camping, and Moon Metro Los Angeles.
