Terry Rudnick, Craig Schuhmann : Moon Pacific Northwest Fishing: The Complete Guide to Lakes, Streams, and Saltwater (Moon Outdoors) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Moon Pacific Northwest Fishing: The Complete Guide to Lakes, Streams, and Saltwater (Moon Outdoors):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. DissapointmentBy Russ MannThis book has about as much information as the pamphlets you get at the rest stops. It tell you "this place is good to fish" but doesnt give specifics about flies to use, colors, certain spots. It just skims the surface.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy Grandma's ReviewThis was a gift for a friend.....he loves it!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy wanda perryits great

Pacific Northwest locals Terry Rudnick and Craig Schuhmann guide novice and experienced anglers alike to the finest fishing waters in the region, from Conconully Lake in Northeastern Washington to the Oregon Coast's Chetco River. Rudnick and Schuhmann offer thorough coverage of the lakes, reservoirs, rivers, and coasts they know best in this guide, supplying expert fishing tips and advice tailored to each spot, as well as detailed descriptions, maps, and directions so fishermen can locate even the most hard-to-find places. Complete with helpful "best-of" lists for a wide variety of fishing expeditionsincluding Best for Steelhead, Best Family Fishing, Best for Fly-Fishing, and Best for Trophy TroutMoon Pacific Northwest Fishing provides all the necessary tools to head outdoors.

About the AuthorTerry Rudnick grew up fishing the lakes, streams, and ponds within bicycling range of his home in Washington's Puget Sound Basin, and he has never found a reason to live anywhere else in the world. Although Terry has fished throughout the Western United States and Canada, the vast angling variety of the Evergreen State always brings him home to the waters he's known for more than 50 years. Since selling his first magazine article in 1971, Terry has shared his fishing knowledge in hundreds of feature articles, news stories, and photos published in regional and national outdoor publications. Along the way he has earned numerous writing and photography awards, including the National Conservationist of the Year Communications Award from Trout Unlimited.An energetic and enthusiastic speaker, Terry gives seminars and slideshows on a wide variety of angling topics for sportsmen's organizations and consumer show audiences throughout the Northwest. He also serves as the youth sport-fishing coordinator for Washington's Department of Fish and Wildlife. When he's not writing, speaking, or teaching, Terry can be found fishing near the home on the shores of Puget Sound that he shares with wife Roberta, son Evan, Labrador Retriever Pepper, and terrier Salty Dog.Craig Schuhmann has been fishing in Oregon since the age of 11. He spent his early years fishing Oregon's steelhead and trout rivers around the Columbia Basin and Central Oregon.Craig is the author of the book Get Started Fly-Fishing! and has published numerous articles in Fly Tyer magazine and Flyfishing Tying Journal. He holds a master's degree in theology from the University of Portland, and works as the Outreach Programs Director for Integral Youth Services, a faith-based nonprofit serving at-risk youth.Craig currently resides in Klamath Falls, Oregon, with his daughter and wife, where he runs a seasonal guide business, Guided Waters Flyfishing, and teaches fly-fishing and tying at Klamath Community College.
