Christopher Arns : Moon Sacramento the Gold Country (Moon Handbooks) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Moon Sacramento the Gold Country (Moon Handbooks):

D.Meh...it's small and I guess I was looking for more local secrets like swimming holes and such but this is a basic where to eat and local attractions all of which I've figured out in my two months of moving to the gold country. I find out a lot more from talking to bartenders and people I meet.5 of 5 people found the following review helpful. Great way to get to know your city!By Jaymie ArnsI bought this guidebook because I moved to the area almost two years ago and still have not gotten to know Sacramento. This is a great way to do that, and also perfect for anyone who is just visiting. Very easy to follow and the author puts a fun spin on the writing, making it stand out from the other guidebooks on my shelf. I would highly recommend this Moon Handbook! 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Four Stars By Elizabeth McNeil Fun resource.

Sacramento resident and Gold Country native Christopher Arns shares tips on how to best enjoy the sights (and some of the best weather in the country). Using his extensive knowledge of the area, Arns provides original trip ideas to help visitors make the most of their time, including Sacramento on Wheels, Wine Country Road Trip, and Gold Country Adventure. From a visit to Apple Hill or an afternoon at Fairytale Town to dirt biking and kayaking through breathtaking scenery, Moon Sacramento the Gold Country gives travelers the tools they need to create a more personal and memorable experience.

About the Author Raised in the Gold Country, Christopher Arns has deep roots in Northern California. During his youth, Christopher attended a bohemian private school near Auburn where he learned to knit, perform Shakespeare, and look forward to field trips at the American River. Christopher eventually moved to San Luis Obispo and enrolled at Cal Poly, where he became the sports editor for the daily college newspaper. After graduating, he spent several years as a sports reporter on California's central coast and in southern Oregon, logging late hours at high school football games and wrestling meets. He eventually took a break from writing to travel around Europe and North Africa, venturing through war-torn cities in the Balkans and discovering long-lost relatives in Romania. Convinced he needed a real job after months of traveling, Christopher returned from Europe and began working at Apple. For several years he provided customer support for iPhones and iPads, but eventually felt the siren call of the keyboard and happily returned to writing. Now a full-time freelance writer, Christopher lives in Sacramento just a few blocks from the American River. He enjoys riding his beach cruiser through Sacramento's leafy neighborhoods and fly-fishing in the Sierra Nevada. He recently completed a master's degree in international relations from Sacramento State and is currently writing a travel memoir about exploring his family roots in Cyprus.
