Laura Martone : Moon Spotlight Michigans Traverse Bays and Mackinac Island before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Moon Spotlight Michigans Traverse Bays and Mackinac Island:

Great book for the Traverse City area By Jasmine Mitchell We rented a house on Big Platte Lake a bit west of Traverse City and found this book very helpful on our family trip. It had great suggestions on things to see and do, especially with kids. Please note that this little book is a "subsection" of the big Moon Michigan book; the information is duplicative--so you only need to buy one or the other since the information on the Traverse City area and Mackinac is the same. 2 of 4 people found the following review helpful. Duplicative of other book on Michigan By Wanderer This is the exact same material as is in the Moon book on Michigan. Buy one of them but not both.0 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Not Fodor'sBy GramsterThis was a good travel book, but being a Fodor's fan, I have to say that it doesn't compare. It is adequate enough and served our purposes well though.

Moon Spotlight Michigan's Traverse Bays and Mackinac Island is an 80-page compact guide covering the best of northern Michigan, including Traverse City, the Leelanau Peninsula, Petoskey, and Cheboygan. Moon Michigan author Laura Martone offers her firsthand advice on must-see attractions, and includes maps with sightseeing highlights so you can make the most of your time. This lightweight guide is packed with recommendations on entertainment, shopping, recreation, accommodations, food, and transportation, making navigating this popular vacation area uncomplicated and enjoyable.

About the AuthorA native of New Orleans, Laura Martone has been an avid traveler since childhood. Growing up, she and her mother would often take long road trips to fascinating U.S. landmarks, such as the Rocky Mountains and Monticello. After graduating from Northwestern University in 1998 with a dual degree in English and Radio/TV/Film, Laura continued to explore America with her husband, Daniel. Equally fond of cultural and natural wonders, she has a particular affinity for the state of Michigan, where she spends her summers.Laura first traveled to the Great Lakes State in 2000 to visit her husband's family, and has experienced a lot of this incredibly diverse locale ever since. Over the years, she's searched for Petoskey stones along the shores of Lake Superior, picked wild blueberries in the woods of the Lower Peninsula, toured an active GM truck plant in the Flint area, and attended the National Cherry Festival in Traverse Cityand she's not done yet. When not in Michigan, Laura divides her time between New Orleans and Los Angeles, where she operates two film festivals with her husband. She's contributed articles to MotorHome,Route 66 Magazine, RV Journal, and The Ecotourism Observer. In addition, she's written and edited several other guidebooks, including Moon Baja RV Camping.
