W. C. McRae, Judy Jewell : Moon Zion and Bryce (Moon Handbooks) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Moon Zion and Bryce (Moon Handbooks):

Short version of Moon's UtahBy Kindle CustomerI already purchased Moon's Utah and thought I'd get this book, believing it would go into much further detail on the national parks. WRONG! This book is basically a short version of the Utah book, leaving out areas north of the park and duplicating most of the info about the parks that you can find in the larger book. I wish I would have known that so I could have saved my money.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great resourceBy TroutI used this over the summer on a trip to Zion and Bryce. I am from the area, but found places to visit that I did not know about. The book offered ideas of where to go, and what to do. I had my two 10 year old boys with me, I was looking for ideas to keep them entertained and engaged. This book was very informative, and I learned about the area that I thought I knew about. Great Book! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. A bit out of date 2008. By K.T. Portland This version is a bit out of date, 2008. Otherwise it's pretty good and helpful.

Seasoned travel writers W.C. McRae and Judy Jewell offer an in-depth look at the National Parks of southeastern Utah, from the awe-inspiring sandstone cliffs of Zion to the otherworldly rock formations of Arches. The authors provide suggestions for great trips such as the Best of Southern Utah's National Parks and Standing High: The Best Vistas. Packed with information on dining, transportation, and accommodations, Moon Zion and Bryce has lots of options for a range of travel budgets. Every Moon guidebook includes recommendations for must-see sights and many area, regional, and city-centered maps. With advice on hiking the remote corners of Canyonlands, mountain biking in Slickrock Canyon, and finding the best brewpub in Moab, Moon Zion and Bryce gives travelers the tools they need to create a more personal and memorable experience. With expert writers, first-rate strategic advice, and an essential dose of humor, Moon guidebooks are the cure for the common trip.

About the Author Bill is the coauthor of several travel guides, including Moon Utah and Moon Montana (both with Judy Jewell). He has also edited books for National Geographic and Mobil Guides and has written for websites like GORP.com and Expedia.com. In his spare time he earns money by writing polemics for a high-tech PR company. He makes his home in Portland, OR. Judy Jewell graduated from Reed College and worked at Portland's renowned Powell's Books. Judy worked there, as a book buyer and manager, for 14 years then decided to write travel books. Judy is the author of several guidebooks, including Moon Utah and Moon Montana (also with Bill McRae). When she is not writing about the outdoors and travel, she is the lead technical writer at Camp Dusty Technical Services. She lives with her husband and dog in Portland, OR.
